Fairs, Festivals, and Temporary Events

A food establishment that operates for a period of no more than fourteen (14) consecutive days in conjunction with a single event or celebration is the focus of this section. Fairs, festivals and similar celebrations, as well as, dinners and other events sponsored by organizations serving food and open to the public are all examples of temporary events.

Temporary operations often require the food service to be set up out-of-doors or in locations where keeping food safe and sanitary is challenging. The popularity of mobile food operations has increased in recent years. A mobile food establishment refers to a food service operation that is operated from a movable motor driven or propelled vehicle, portable structure, or watercraft and that can change location. They vary in size and complexity, from large modular units to pushcarts.

Recommended guidance for mobile food establishments can be found here. These guidelines should not be mistaken for or used in place of regulations that exist for permanent food establishments or food processing plants. In addition, many Local Public Health Agencies (LPHAs) require temporary event vendors to obtain a permit and/or inspection prior to opening/operating at an event.

The following actions and equipment are intended to be required for all temporary food operations including mobile food establishments:

Booth

The stand or booth should have overhead protection and in most cases, be fully enclosed. There may be openings for a serving window and a door for entry; however, the door is to be kept closed during operation. All food preparation, food storage, and service are to be done within this enclosed area. Screening material may be used for the walls, doors and serving window. However, screening may not be necessary if flying insects or other pests are absent due to the location of the food stand, the weather, or other limiting factors.

The floor of the stand should be hard, smooth, and constructed of easily cleanable materials. Asphalt, concrete, or plywood may be acceptable floor surfaces in temporary food stands.

Hand Sink

Adequate hand washing facilities consist of a hand-sink equipped with hot and cold running water, soap, and paper towels. A temporary sink set up can be made that consists of a vessel full of water with a spigot type dispenser, soap, paper towels, a wastebasket and a bucket to collect wastewater. The use of gloves or hand sanitizers is not a substitute for handwashing.

Bare Hand Contact

A food employee's bare hands may not touch ready-to-eat foods. Tongs, spatulas, deli tissues, or gloves must be used.

Food

All foods and beverages are to be from approved sources and prepared on-site or at a food establishment currently under inspection.
